Privacy Statement

Tidy Rooms is committed to protecting your privacy. If you have any concerns about your data, please contact the Data Processor directly at lynda@tidyrooms.co.uk

Your Data

Information you provide to Tidy Rooms is used to reply to your enquiry, or as part of a standard working relationship to enable decluttering and organising services to be provided by Tidy Rooms. Data includes your name, address, phone number, email address and any other form of communication you provide. Information is confidential and will not be given to third parties without your consent save as permitted or required by law or by relevant regulatory authorities.

Data Storage

Your data is stored securely in accordance with the European General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Your information is kept as accurate and up to date as possible and not kept for longer than is necessary.

Your contact details will be deleted after an initial enquiry or consultation if we have not heard from you within 1 year.

If you have been a client of Tidy Rooms and we have not heard from you within 7 years of our last contact, we will delete your contact details from our records. Your surname, first and final date of communication will remain our database.

Data Security

The information you provide is subject to procedures to minimize the risk of unauthorized access or disclosure.

Cookies

Tidy Rooms uses traffic log cookies to monitor visits and use of our website. The information is only used for statistical analysis to improve the website. Cookies do not permit access to your computer or any information about you, other than data you choose to share. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but your browser settings can probably be modified to decline cookies if you prefer.

Links to other websites

Tidy Rooms' website contains links to other websites of interest, but takes no responsibility for the protection of any information which you provide whilst visiting these sites. Such sites are not governed by this Privacy Statement.
